BATTLE OF VILLA CLARA

Important Letters Give a New Version of the Conflict.

DIRECTED TO THE JUNTA

Gen. Sanchez Says That the Fight Lasted Five Hours, the Spanish Loss Was Heavy and the Insurgent Loss Very Small—Staff Officer of Sanchez Also Writes.

Senor Quezada, secretary of the Cuban junta in this city, has received two important letters from leaders of the insurgents' cause in Cuba.

The letters are interesting as giving the Cuban version of a battle, only the Spanish accounts of which have before appeared in print. The following is an extract from a letter from Gen. Sanchez:

Feb. 16, 1896.

I had a great battle on the 5th of this month in Villa Clara, Majanabo, Viñales, Gorda, a battle which lasted five hours in open field. The enemy's forces were 4,000 men. I fought with 1,000 men, and the Spanish troops were unable to advance one yard from their square. Seven killed and fifty-eight wounded, of which thirty-five killed. A few horses killed and wounded, as I met the battle alone. The enemy knew it positively had 235 losses, among which were sixty killed. We captured some horses with their saddles and several mules with blankets and other camp utensils.

I have to lament the death of Major Aurelio Noy, who died the following day from a wound received in battle.

The battle of the 5th of February has been the greatest and most considerable in Las Villas. The war goes on strong in the western provinces, and the enemy is filled with fear and has done nothing in this winter campaign, notwithstanding their living declarations.

(Signed) KRUGER SANCHEZ.

STAFF OFFICER'S LETTER.

The following is from Maj. E. Loybas de Castillo, of the staff of Gen. Sanchez: General Headquarters in La Campana, Santa Clara, February 15, 1896.

The army corps, after its return from the invasion of the western provinces, concentrated a part of its troops first in La Campana, and then in Viñales, and leaving sufficient troops in all the zones of operations. The number of men concentrated was 2,448. With these the general started toward the city of Santa Clara.

The object of his march was to call attention of the enemy to this region, in order to protect the operations which in the western provinces, and to show with our presence in Las Villas that, notwithstanding the large army which has been sent to invade the west, the revolution is powerful here.

The army with its flag unfurled passed through the rich districts of Remedios, Pinar, Canajana and Santa Clara. On the 7th we encamped in Viñales, four leagues from the capital of Las Villas, where we were to meet the command of Brigadier Banderas, that of Brigadier Bojardo, Castillo, and brigade of Villa Clara under Col. Aleman.

Brigadier Banderas did not come, as he had received orders to return to the general calling him urgently with his forces. On the 8th, at 10 a. m., the enemy, 1,800 strong, came upon our advance guard. The general immediately ordered the retreat of the reserve, of the unarmed men, etc., to a sure place in the rear guard, where he also placed the representatives of the government of the Cuban republic and the sanitary corps.

On the height where the staff was, he placed the cavalry regiment "Honorable," forming our right wing, started in such a manner that it could not be seen by the enemy.

TOOK THE OFFENSIVE.

The latter, considering the retirement of our reserves, a retreat of the army advanced quickly toward our front and crossed a stream, and as it was receiving already our concentrated fire, opened its ranks into two vigorous wings toward the left, who took the command of Col. J. M. Gomez, and two companies of infantry, under Col. Jose Gonzalez, and a section of cavalry of the regiment "Martí," commanded by Col. Sanchez, all of these forces forming one column, which he ordered by a circular march to place itself in the rear guard of the enemy.

These forces should reach the field of battle by the same road which the enemy had passed, and they were to open fire at the same time, and as the enemy advanced, a vigorous advance was made in front. Gen. Sanchez passed from one end to the other of our line of fire and commanded that the soldiers should advance with aim, and slowly, in order to have enough ammunition for the execution of the proposed movement.

As the enemy appeared again with numerous infantry along the stream advancing in open formation, the general sent Garcia, with the "Honorable" regiment, Brigadier Angel Rodriguez, with the "Victoria," and Brigadier Feza, with his escort, to charge the Spanish.

FORCED THE ENEMY.

Our horsemen advanced impetuously to the enemy's bayonet, but they could not give them the machete, because there was underbrush around it; yet they obtained the principal object of the charge, which was to stop the enemy and force it to form an immense square, upon which infantry and dismounted cavalry made fire with mortal effect.

The whole mass of the enemy was concentrated near the stream, their thousand and odd rifles incessantly firing. Col. Garcia, who was wounded in the foot in the brave charge, dismounted his soldiers on the height to our right, so that they could shoot aiming. And the escort of Gen. Sanchez, which fought with great courage, did the same thing.

We had unfortunately to desert from our plan of cutting off the enemy completely, because after three quarters of an hour of fire, there was not in our front a cartridge, and we were forced to retire a part of the troops toward our left, our fire ceasing on the right. But at that moment our other column in the rear guard arrived. Having lost the guide it took them four hours to get to the field of battle.

The Cubans attacked with their infantry, armed with long Remington rifles, at a distance of eighty paces, and forced the enemy to retire from all their positions.

In the evening the Spanish retired under our fire, with a great many litters, crossing the farms, without daring to go by the roads. The Cuban forces, "Maximo Gomez" and "Martí" and the infantry, encamped that night on the field of battle, which they reconnoitered. They found great piles of blood, a large quantity of cartridges, clothing, and hats, with marks of a battle well fought in which it is believed is full of glory.

SCANDAL IN HIGH PLACES

Proceedings Against Dr. Peters, German Colonial Leader.

ALLEGED CRIME IN AFRICA

Bishop Tucker Writes a Letter Charging Peters With Hanging the Daughter of a Native Chief—The Explorer Claims That They Were Married and He Obed the African Law.

Berlin, March 14.—The concluding incidents of the debate in the Reichstag today upon the occasion of the discussion of the colonial budget, which developed charges against Dr. Carl Peters, the African explorer, abundantly justified the demands which were made and assented to by the government that an inquiry be made into the accusations brought against Peters.

The defense of Dr. Peters, which was attempted by Dr. Kayser, the secretary of the colonial department, yesterday, left the position of the government lamentably weak, especially in view of the declaration made by Dr. Leiber, the clerical leader, that the central party held that Dr. Peters was a criminal in the eyes of honest men, and that the whole German African administration had been placed under suspicion.

HANGED THE GIRL.

The accusation made by Herr Bebel, the socialist leader, that Dr. Peters had forced the daughter of a native chief to become his mistress and had subsequently hanged her and his male body servant upon the covering that Black relations were being maintained between them, formed the pivot of today's debate, which was of a most exciting character.

The charge made by Herr Bebel is based upon a report made by Bishop Tucker to the English Missionary Society and also upon a correspondence which passed between Tucker and Dr. Peters, in which the bishop accused Peters of murder.

In reply to this accusation Dr. Peters wrote to Bishop Tucker that he had married the girl according to African rites and that in accordance with the native African law, he was entitled to kill her upon discovering that she was guilty of adultery.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST HIM.

Dr. Kayser, the secretary of the colonial department, announced that the chairman, Prince Bismarck, had ordered the institution of disciplinary proceedings against Dr. Peters in order to establish the truth or falsity of the contents of the letter written by him to Bishop Tucker.

Herr Losenmann was cheered on all sides in reply to Dr. Kayser; he said that what the government had proposed to do in the matter was not enough.

CONQUEST OF THE NILE

Fierce Debate On the Question of British Co-operation.

PLANS FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Conservatives in Parliament Are the Enthusiastic Promoters of Scheme and the Radicals Are Its Bitter Opponents—The Claim, Is Not Believed.

London, March 14.—The Anglo-Egyptian expedition has the unstinted approval of the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists, the hearty support of the Liberals, and the fierce opposition of the Radicals.

In gleaming from official opinion, it is found that the line of defense of the government will be a denial that the expedition aims at a reconquest of any part of the Sudan, and a statement that the British troops will only be employed to guard the line to Wady Halfa, while the Egyptian troops advance to Ohi Dongola, making their headquarters at El Odeh (New Dongola).

DEFENSE, NOT CONQUEST.

According to Cairo advices the 12,000 Egyptian troops will take part in the expedition, and a statement that the British troops will only be employed to guard the line to Wady Halfa, while the Egyptian troops advance to Ohi Dongola, making their headquarters at El Odeh (New Dongola).

Field Marshal Lord Wolseley and Gen. Kitchener do not seem to place much trust in the Egyptian troops. It is not expected that the derbies will make a stand at El Odeh, but in case of fighting the British troops will be ready to support the Egyptians.

The British troops, if the real designs of the government are carried out, will advance in force up the Nile in August next. A contingent of the Indian army, chiefly Sikhs and Ghoras, will, it is expected, be likely to be landed at Suakin to operate in conjunction with the Anglo-Egyptian forces and march to Berber.

London papers have arranged to send special correspondents with the expedition. It is generally conceded that the Sudan will be a big undertaking, and the government is reluctant to disclose the whole scheme.

Simultaneously with the Dongola expedition a Belgian Congo Free State force, led by Baron Dhanis, will attack the derbies on the upper Nile. Acting with the consent of the British foreign office, Baron Dhanis has a big undertaking, and the government is reluctant to disclose the whole scheme.

These natives, who are splendid fighters and who will go wherever they are led, will be a big undertaking, and the government is reluctant to disclose the whole scheme.

Crispo Sends in a Message On the German Debt.

Slight Earthquake Shocks Continue in Valparaiso.

Another Loan Will Be Negotiated Based on the National Revenues.

People Fear to Stay Indoors and in the Cities Are Camping in the Squares.

(By Cable to The Times.) (Copyrighted, 1896, J. G. Bennett.)

Caracas, Venezuela, March 14.—President Crispo, who has been too ill for a week to attend cabinet meetings, has sent a message to congress concerning an important proposition looking to the settlement of the railway troubles in the country.

The president says it is necessary to make a step toward the payment of the government's guarantee of 7 per cent, now due the German creditors.

He also says that it has been arranged by the minister of public works, in concert with the railway companies, to settle the balance of the debt in ninety-nine years, a stipulated guarantee being given.

It has also been arranged to obtain from the Berlin discount bank 25,000,000 bolivars, 80 per cent in cash, bearing 5 per cent interest, 1 per cent of the money to be reserved as a sinking fund.

Venezuela's resources will be based on the national revenues.

Valparaiso, Chile, via Galveston, Tex., March 14.—The seismic disturbances continue at short intervals.

The shaking of the earth is slight, but the almost incessant tremor has created a panic.

The people are gathered in the open squares, and they fear to sleep in houses, knowing that a violent earthquake, if it should come, would first demolish their dwellings.

Thus far, however, not much damage has been done so far as known. The tremor has not been so severe in this city as it has in Santiago, where the panic is greatest.

In other parts of the country the earthquake shocks are scarcely perceptible. The vibrations are from North to South.

Interest in this sale grows more intense daily. Buying will be greater tomorrow than ever—reductions are greater. It won't take near as long as we expected to move some of the stock out of the way of the builders.

Reducing prices—There isn't a department in the store that won't be terribly upset by the workmen.

We shall be glad when all improvements have been completed, for we are anxious to have a perfect store—or as near perfect as it is possible to make it.

Please don't think for a moment that we are "shoving off" a lot of "tras," bought for the occasion. If you know this store, you know the sort of merchandise we sell—you know there isn't any better to be had—you know that the season's styles are shown here as soon as they become styles—and not a one is skipped. When you have once been here you will no longer question the qualities we are offering.

Part of the extraordinary reductions are chronicled below:
